

International Financial Contagion: How It Spreads and How It Can Be Stopped

Preliminary Contents and Contributors

I. Overview

a) Book Overview

Stijn Claessens - Lead Economist, World Bank
Kristin Forbes - Professor, MIT

b) International Financial Contagion: How it Spreads and How It Can Be Stopped

Stijn Claessens - Lead Economist, World Bank
Rudiger Dornbusch - Professor, MIT
Yung Chul Park - Professor, Korea University

II. The Measurement and Theory of Contagion: What do we Know?

a) Measuring Contagion: Conceptual and Empirical Issues

Kristin Forbes - Professor, MIT
Roberto Rigobon - Professor, MIT

b) The Channels for Financial Contagion

Matthew Pritsker - Economist, Federal Reserve Board

III. Testing Alternate Channels of Contagion

a) Crisis Transmission: Evidence from the Debt, Tequila and Asian Flu Crises

Jose de Gregorio - Professor, University of Chile/Ministry of Economy Rodrigo Valdes - Economist, Central Bank of Chile

b) Financial Contagion: Spillovers through Banking Centers

Caroline Van Rijckeghem - Economist, International Monetary Fund Beatrice Weder - Professor, University of Basel

c) Flight to Quality: Investor Risk Tolerance and the Spread of Emerging Market Crises

Barry Eichengreen - Professor, UC Berkeley Galina Hale - Professor, UC Berkeley Ashoka Mody - Lead Specialist, World Bank

d) Economic Fragility, Liquidity and Risk: The Behavior of Mutual Funds During Crises

Graciela Kaminsky - Professor, George Washington University Richard Lyons - Professor, UC Berkeley Sergio Schmukler - Financial Economist, World Bank

e) Portfolio Diversification, Leverage, and Financial Contagion

Gary Schinasi –Division Chief , International Monetary Fund
Todd Smith - Professor, University of Alberta

IV. Case Studies of Contagion

a) Contagion of International Financial Crises: The Case of Mexico

Santiago Bazdresch - Professor, Rutgers University Alejandro Werner - Economist, Banco de Mexico

b) The Thai Meltdown and Transmission of Recession within the ASEAN4 and NIE4

Tilak Abeysinghe - Senior Lecturer, National University of Singapore

c) Financial Contagion in the East Asian Crisis: With Special Reference to the Republic of Korea

Yung Chul Park - Professor, Korea University
Chi-Young Song - Professor, Kookmin University

d) The Russian Default and the Contagion to Brazil

Taimur Baig - Economist, International Monetary Fund Ilan Goldfajn - Professor, Pontificia Universidade Catolica

e) Are Financial Crises Becoming Increasingly More Contagious? What is the Historical Evidence on Contagion?

Michael Bordo - Professor, Rutgers University
Antu Murshid - Professor, Rutgers University

V. Implications for Policy and the International Financial Architecture

a) International Contagion: Implications for Policy

Roberto Chang - Senior Economist, Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta Giovanni Majnoni - Advisor, World Bank

b) International Reform: Some Issues

Philip Turner - Head Emerging Markets Secretariat, BIS John Hawkins - Senior Economist, BIS

c) International Financial Architecture (tentative paper)

Barry Eichengreen - UC Berkeley